Did you forward this to his VA person?

Yes, send a termination.

You're making my life very difficult I just want to say that from the start. I should owe no money I don't even have any money and your numbers that don't even add up. then to say say that the appeal process was denied without even a word for myself or any of the people involved I don't know what you have done that you have an Vendetta that against me. I told Kasey my VA advocate that I would contact you in regards to this matter

I know it's a participant in the hud-vash program I do have rights I'm going to exercise every single right I have producing even witnesses that can testify that I did not make any false statements of income for the year

Are you sure you're holding the title correctly of case manager or just working in collections because over the last years or so where I've been under a hud-vash voucher I haven't heard seen anything from you except for a collection notice threats of termination you've been managing my case or do you just an auditor finding any way to screw over those that participate in the program.

Well you got my number

Maybe I should stop in and see you face to face setting locked in that office of yours you forget that there's actually a human being to deal with a not a f number that there's individuals not just a f piece of paper line-item

You and I need to rectify your miscalculation and assumptions

Enough said
